The following is a timeline of the development of facility recommendations during Covid 2020-21:

- * February 2020 - After an extensive bid process, the Building Team recommended Lichtefeld be secured to build a $6.5M facility.
- * March 2020 - Because of the Covid pandemic, the church moved to online worship only until June through Facebook and the SBC website.
- * April 2020 - The Senior Pastor and Master Plan Initiative Team (MPIT) recommended putting all facility plans on hold due to the uncertainty of the pandemic.
- * September 2020 - Around 80% of 170 families responding to an electronic and mailed church survey asked for a phased approach to our facility plan.
- * October 2020 - The MPIT met and was briefed on the church survey. The vision of the church need has changed during the pandemic. Church consultants predict 20-30% will not return to church. Community ministry/outreach and small group ministry/discipleship has become the stronger focus.
- * January 2021 - The MPIT met to receive a recommendation from the Building Team to build a 2-story educational facility that would include the following: designated space for the student ministry; shared space for adult Sunday School, Discipleship and Community Ministry; large gathering area; and Adventure Club office space. The existing Administration/Fellowship Hall building would be torn down and the new building would be built in its place.
- * January 2021 - The Building Team met with Lichtefeld (general contractor) to discuss a 2-story educational building, estimated cost and church needs.
- * March 2021 - The Building Team hosted a Church Forum that was attended by 75 people representing around 40 families. The Building Team answered questions and received comments from the church family.
- * April/May 2021 - A communication plan continues through discussion in adult Sunday School classes about proposed facility plan. The Building Team is available to answer questions and listen to comments.
- * April/May 2021 - The Building Team is waiting for initial drawings and renderings from Lichtefeld.

In the summer, the Building Team will present a final recommendation for a 2-story educational facility to be built. A complete presentation will be made before the church vote is scheduled. You have at least another month for questions or comments to be directed to the Building Team. Thank you for your patience and prayers!

Those involved in Adult Sunday School classes have remained faithful to church biblical fellowship. Their classes model Christian spirit, friendship, care, service, and study of God's word. Sunday School is the essence of who we are, desiring to know God's will through God's word. You are encouraged to be involved in one of our 10 adult classes or to see us about beginning a new adult class.

Ultimate Wings Orphanage Mijomboni Africa

SBC is partnering with Ultimate Wings to build an orphanage at the projected cost of $10,000.

The building will house 30 boys and girls. To stock the facility with furnishings, clothing, kitchen and administrative supplies, the projected cost is $19,000.

To provide food and personnel costs for the year the projected cost is $24,819.

This is indeed a God-sized task but one which will literally save and change lives.

We continue to receive stories about the difficulties facing children in Mijomboni. We hope that sharing them will help you to see how great the need is for the establishment of a rescue center.

This is Brian-aged 14. He's had some pretty tough breaks in his young life-so much so that the depression and extreme poverty he faces led him to attempt suicide.

In 2012 Brian became an orphan following the death of both parents. His sister Hannah cared for him until she died in an auto accident in 2018. In early 2019 he attempted suicide but was saved. A local well-wisher named Jacob took him under his wing and agreed to pay his school fees and care for him. Life was beginning to have some semblance of normality and peace when just 4 months later Jacob died from cancer. There is no one to care for him or pay his school fees so he has been forced to drop out of school and try to survive with his own wits.

Nathan writes, "Well here in Mijomboni, by virtue of its many problems, physically and mentally challenged children are many. The locals attribute it to black magic, not knowing that cerebral palsy, which is the leading cause of the challenges can be a result of habitual sodomy. Down's Syndrome is also very prevalent in this area."

These statements from Nathan lead us to wonder if healthy children are disposable in Mijomboni, how do the mentally and physically challenged care for themselves? If orphaned, what type of future is in store for them?

This young man is Charles. He is receiving accolades for his impressive marks (grades) at the completion of the school term.

His story begins in poverty. He comes from the Digo community of forest dwellers. They were evicted and became squatters. Food, clothing, and shelter became a problem. Despite the difficulties he stayed focused on his education. He continued to try and rise above the poverty until he became malnourished. Due to his Charles' ill health, his teacher visited the home and removed him and cared for him in his own home. He realized that education and nourishment go hand-in-hand. You take care of one and the other falls in line. Charles' father subsisted on casual labor and what small amount of cash he received was quickly spent in beer dens.

Under his guardians care and tutelage, Charles thrived! Two years later he was at the top of his primary school. When he took his finals his marks were 350 out of 400. Isn't this what we call "rising from the ashes"? Unfortunately, his guardian has now been transferred to another area and Charles is unable to go with him. He has a strong educational foundation but with no ability to pay school fees he cannot continue to attend.

Your very generous giving to date: $23,186

SAVE THE DATE!

JUNE 6-10

5:30-8pm

For preschool through 5th grade.

VBS 2021 is headed to present-day Israel where discovery awaits at Destination Dig. Kids will unearth more than dirt as they dig up exciting evidence that proves biblical events were not just stories. As junior archaeologists, kids will explore real-life archaeological finds that have helped to uncover the truth about Jesus! Along the way, they'll discover the truth of Jeremiah 29:13, that God reveals Himself to us when we seek and search for Him with all our hearts.

Volunteers Are Needed!

VBS is volunteer-heavy and without people to help, we will not be able to provide VBS this year. Serve for one day or all four.

Please contact Kevin at kevin@simpsonvillebaptist.com.

ADVENTURE CLUB

It's a wrap! We are wrapping up the school year and the kids are enjoying all of their year end activities! It's been a great year despite the challenges presented by Covid. Adventure Club is blessed with amazing staff, parents and kiddos!

Staying connected to friends, family, and small groups has never been easier. Watch content together on RightNow Media with our new groups feature. One person can play, pause, and rewind videos for the entire group. Everyone can use the chat window as the video plays. Use the groups feature to learn, encourage one another, and grow in your faith.

New Feature: See your whole group and discuss the series with the new built-in video chat function!

“Patterns of Evidence: The Red Sea Miracle 1”, is the first in a two-part film series by Patterns of Evidence’s award-winning filmmaker, Timothy Mahoney. In this investigation he examines the journey to the crossing location, looking at two competing views of the Red Sea Miracle. One he calls the “Egyptian Approach,” which looks near Egypt. The other he calls the “Hebrew Approach,” which looks far from Egypt to the Gulf of Aqaba where divers have been searching for the remains of Pharaoh’s army on the seafloor. The investigation raises giant questions about the real location for the crossing site and its implications on your view of God. The answers to these questions point to one of two very different realities.

Join Timothy Mahoney as he retraces the steps of Moses and the Israelites, looking for answers. As he investigates the possible locations he interviews top-level secular and biblical scholars in search for clues that support the Bible’s timeline for this pivotal event in history. Now, see the evidence as the Bible comes alive with dramatic recreations, 3D animations and never seen before footage.

Investigate the Israelites’ route to the miraculous sea crossing. This small group study includes thought-provoking questions that will help you explore key scenes from the film and why it matters to our faith.

Includes free study guides for both part 1 & part 2.

In order to engage in the battles that will assault, you must have a game plan. Without a strategy, you are a walking target. Without a strategy, you are simply shooting in the dark. The Five Stones of Cavetime are the foundations needed to develop your spiritual rhythm.

In this series, Cavetime Founder, Jeff Voth, will break down what he calls “The Rhythm of the Cave.” As a man, it is critical for you to understand the importance of a spiritually disciplined life and a life of kingdom order. You can live this discipline and order through, The Stones.

Motivated to please God, we often resort to hustle and achievement as we seek to follow him and love others. We begin to find our worth in what we do. But God calls us to find our identity in the quiet center of his love.

In this four-session series with Christy Nockels, learn how to step fully into the life you didn’t even realize you’ve been seeking. Find your highest calling not in a duty to uphold but in a beautiful identity to live out.

Grab your Bible and pack your bags for adventure as Barry Britnell takes your kids on a journey through to the Bible lands! Visit the places where Jesus lived and taught: step inside a first-century synagogue, take a boat across the Sea of Galilee, and walk through the busy streets of Jerusalem. Each video is packed full of great visuals and thought-provoking applications. Lessons from the Land is your children’s ticket to the Bible lands - no passport required!

SBC Marriage Minute

How can couples stay happily married? Part 1

The most happily married couples are startlingly and scientifically not the ones sheltered from hardship, financial strain, and loss. It's not even the one that fight the least. They're the marriages who've learned to choose us in ways microscopic and monumental. But what does that look like in the nitty gritty? Here's a simple, 10-step assessment to help steer you in a happily married direction.

1) How do I respond to my spouse?

When you dial a friend, there's only an interchange if your friend picks up the phone and talks back. And marriage isn't that different. Do you generally receive your spouse's "calls"-their positive behaviors and moves toward you? Do you meet those initiations with warm response? Or are they met with disdain or no one "picking up the phone" at all? Renowned marriage researcher John Gottman finds startling predictors of marital success in how couples respond to each other's bids for affection-and whether couples respond to each other with contempt. Gottman discovered those who had divorced six years after his initial study were only positively responsive to each other 33% of the time. Couples still married had responded warmly on average, 87% of the time, meeting their spouse emotional needs. And it doesn't stop there. Negative spouses missed 50% of their partner's positive behavior. They even perceived negative behavior...that wasn't actually there. This 21st century science echoes ancient truth: "In humility count others more significant than yourselves. Let each of you not look only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others." (Phil 2: 3-4). We need to respond to our spouses as God responds to us: "let us press on to know him. He will respond to us as surely as the arrival of dawn." (Hosea 6:3 NLT)

2) Where is your spouse (and marriage) on your priority list?

One study that surveyed marriage counselors found quality time-apart from the business of running a house-hold-as one off three key factors in marital success. Coexisting in parallel lives simply doesn't stroke the fires of closeness. One counselor mentioned the amount of relational "touch points" in which a healthy couple connects on a given day. Another pointed out that even in "mental time together, you are thinking about the other person and you're including that other person in your decisions." In your relationship assessment, consider whether your spouse innately knows your relationship gets top-shelf status-even over kids, success at work, your cell phone.

3) How much do I respect my spouse?

Sometimes, the size of a person's weakness and failure swell beyond our ability to see what's valuable about them. Or simply see their humanity. Inner negativity leaks out in contempt-one of Gottman's "Four Horseman" of dying relationships, along with defensiveness, criticism and stonewalling. When you're tempted to marinate in your spouse's prolific shortcomings, reroute by recalled three ways you're thankful for them.

4) How would I describe our sex life?

Sex isn't the thermostat for "happily married." But it's a decent thermometer. Yes, sex is complicated by past pain. Baggage, selfishness. Lack of priority. As is marriage. Sex acts as a microcosm of the rest of our relationship. How vulnerable, how "naked and unashamed" are we? How sacrificial, committed, passionate? Ask yourself what you or your spouse are most frustrated with in the bedroom. Chances are, there's a more encompassing relational angle to be worked out.

5) How "together" are we emotionally, spiritually, physically, socially?

Being externally committed to your relationship (i.e. sharing space) is one thing. But how well do you and your spouse function as two becoming one? As Biblical teaching phrases it, "they shall become one flesh" Gen 2:24. Not in the gosh-I-just-flushed-my-identity way. They're closer to three-legged race champions. Two complete identities hugging close in perfect sync for the win. Because there's plenty that actively pulls you apart: Divergent schedules. Your cell phone. Kids. Fantasizing about life outside your marriage. Porn addiction. So in your relationship assessment, consider whether your spouse is more a roommate or are both of you actively investing in your relationship? Because the default state of marriage isn't oneness; it's isolation.
